REPUBLICAN COUNTY CONVENTION

The Republican voters of the several townships and election districts, in Macon county, are requested to elect delegates to a county convention, to be held at the court house in Decatur, on Thursday, August 5th,

at 10 o'clock a. m. for the following purposes:

1st. To organize the county central committee.

2d. To choose delegates to represent Macon county in the legislative convention of the 29th General Assembly, hereafter to be called.

3d. To nominate candidates for clerk of the Circuit Court, Sheriff, Coroner and Prosecuting Attorney, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the convention. The basis of representation will be one delegate for every 250 votes cast for Butterfield & Hayes in 1876, and one delegate for every fraction of 25 votes. Upon this basis the several townships and districts will be entitled to delegates as follows:

By order of the committee,
JAMES C. LAKE, Chairman.

Another dialogue from the associate editor of the Democratic organ would now be in order. This time he should locate it in the Review office as occurring between him and the editor in chief.

Dr. L. M. Glover, the greatly beloved pastor of the First Presbyterian Church at Jacksonville, died last evening at 6 o'clock. He was over 61 years of age, and had resided at Jacksonville a long time.

Twenty Percheron stallions arrived at Boston from England on Thursday, consigned to E. Dillon, of Bloomington, Ill. Three weighed 2,010 pounds when shipped, the others averaging 1,900. Three are valued at $3,000 each, and others at $2,500, for stock purposes. Crossed with common Western stock, they gave animals of from 1,200 to 1,400 pounds, used for draft, and worth about $200 each.

In to-day's issue we publish a statement concerning a matter in which the name of W. H. Bayne, editor and proprietor of the Review, figures conspicuously. The developments are startling, more especially so when the relations of Mr. Bayne to society in this community are taken into consideration. The charges are so serious and revolting in their nature that they not only involve the moral character of the person in question, but the law provides for severe punishment of any person convicted of a crime so unusual and loathsome as that indicated in the charges preferred by the church. If Mr. Bayne sets up the claim that these serious charges are false it was his duty to himself and society to have confronted them the very moment they were brought to his attention. The fear of publicity was no excuse in his case, and he should have indignantly defied the church to establish the charges. A mere denial was not sufficient in the face of the evidence. The law is no respecter of persons, and no matter who commits crime, justice demands its enforcement. We have not been in haste in giving publicity to these serious charges against the character of Mr. Bayne, and if the accused can establish his innocence of the grave charges that are now resting upon him, we will gladly give his vindication to the public.

The New York Republican State Committee will open the campaign early in August. The committee's headquarters are at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in the city of New York. A vigorous campaign is in prospect.

Boston's population is 363,000; Detroit's, 116,027.

GEN. GARFIELD'S SPEECH ON SOUTHERN PRISONS.

Delivered at the Reunion of the Survivors, Toledo, October 9, 1879.

In October, 1879, the survivors of Southern prisons held a reunion at Toledo, Ohio. These men, who had endured all the tortures of those infamous prison pens, sickness, disease, and cruelty in all shapes, for months and sometimes years, had gathered in Toledo in great numbers, to renew acquaintances formed in such frightful places. At this Reunion Gen. Garfield was present, and on the second day of the proceedings the General addressed the survivors of Southern prisons as follows:

GEN. GARFIELD'S SPEECH.

Gen. Garfield said:

My Comrades, Ladies and Gentlemen: I have addressed a great many audiences, but I never before stood in the presence of one that I felt so wholly unworthy to speak to. A man who came through the war without being shot or made prisoner is almost out of place in such an assemblage as this. While I have listened to you this evening I have remembered the words of a distinguished Englishman, who once said "that he was willing to die for his country, but he would not do a mean thing to save both his king and his country." Now to say that a man is willing to die for his country is a good deal, but these men who sit before us have said a great deal more than that. I would like to know where the man is that would calmly step out on this platform and say: "I am ready to starve to death for my country." [Applause.] That is an enormous thing to say, but there is a harder thing than that. Find a man, if you can, who will walk out before this audience and say, "I am willing to become an idiot for my country." [Applause.] How many men could you find who would volunteer to become idiots for life for their country? Now let me make this statement to you, fellow-citizens: One hundred and eighty-eight thousand such men as this were captured by the rebels who were fighting our government. One hundred and eighty-eight thousand! How many is that? They tell me there are 4,500 men and women in this building to-night. Multiply this mighty audience by 40, and you have about 188,000. Forty times this great audience were prisoners of war to the enemies of our country. And to every man of that enormous company there stood open night and day the offer, "If you join the Rebel army and lift up your hand against your flag, you are free!" [A voice—That's so.]

Gen. Garfield—"And you shall have food and you shall have clothing [cheers], and you shall see wife and mother and child."

[A voice—"We didn't do it, though."]

And do you know that out of that 188,000 there were less than 3,000 who accepted the offer? [Great applause and cheers.] And of those 3,000, perhaps nine-tenths of them did it with the mental reservation that they would desert at the first hour—the first moment there was an opportunity. [Applause.] But 185,000 out of the 188,000 said, "No! not to see wife again; not to avoid starvation; not to avoid idleness; not to avoid the most loathsome of loathsome deaths will I lift this hand of mine against my country forever." [Great applause and cheers.] Now, we praise the ladies for their patriotism; we praise our good citizens at home for their patriotism; we praise the gallant soldiers who fought and fell. [Applause.] But what were all these things compared with that you do? I bow in reverence. I would stand with unsundered feet in the presence of such heroism and such suffering; and I would say to you, fellow-citizens, such an assemblage as this has never yet before met on this great earth. [Great applause, followed by prolonged cheers.]

Who have reunions? I will not trench upon forbidden ground, but let me say this: Nothing on earth or under sky can call men together for reunions except ideas that have immortal truth and immortal life in them. [Cheers.] The animals fight. Lions and tigers fight as ferociously as did you. Wild beasts tear to the death; but they never have reunions. [Laughter.] Why? Because wild beasts do not fight for ideas. They merely fight for blood. All these men and all their comrades went out inspired by two immortal ideas, first, that liberty shall be universal in America [applause]; and, second, that this old flag is the flag of a nation, and not of a State [immense enthusiasm; cheers and applause.] That the Nation is supreme over all people and all corporations. [Great applause and cheers.] Call it a State, call it a section; call it a South; call it a North; call it anything you wish, and yet, armed with the nationality that God gave us, this is a Nation against all State sovereignty and secession forever. [Cheers and applause; great enthusiasm.] It is the immortality of that truth that makes these reunions, and that makes this one. You believed it on the battle field, you believed it in the hell of Andersonville [applause], and you believe it to-day, thank God [cheers], and you will believe it till the last gasp.

Well, now, fellow-citizens and fellow-soldiers—but I am not worthy to be your fellow in this work. I thank you for having asked me to speak to you. I want to say simply that I have had one opportunity only to do you any service. I did hear a man who stood by my side in the halls of legislation—the man that offered on the floor of Congress the resolution that any man who commanded colored troops should be treated as a pirate, and not as a soldier, as a slave-stealer and not as a soldier—I heard that man calmly say, with his head up in the light, in the presence of this American people, that the Union soldiers were as well treated and as kindly treated in all the Southern prisons as were the rebel soldiers in all Northern prisons.

Voices—"Liar," "Liar." "He was a liar."

Gen. Garfield—I heard him declare that no kinder men ever lived than Gen. Winder and his commander-in-chief, Jeff Davis. [Yells of derision, hisses, etc.] And I took it upon myself to overwhelm him with the proof, [a roll of applause begins], with the proof that the tortures you suffered, the wrong done to you, were suffered and done with the knowledge of the Confederate authorities, from Jefferson Davis down—[great applause, waving of hats, veterans standing on their chairs and cheering]—that it was a part of their policy to make you idiots and skeletons, and to exchange your broken and shattered bodies and dethroned minds, for strong, robust, well-fed Rebel prisoners. [Applause.] That policy I affirm has never had its parallel for atrocity in the civilized world. [Applause.] It was never heard of in any land since the dark ages closed upon the earth. [Applause.] While history lives men have memories. We can forgive and forget all other things before we can forgive and forget this. [Applause.] Finally, and in conclusion, I am willing, for one—and I think I speak for thousands of others—I am willing to see all the bitterness of the late war buried in the graves of our dead. [Applause.] I would be willing that we should imitate the condescending, loving kindness of Him who planted the green grass on the battle-fields and let the fresh flowers bloom on all graves alike. I would clasp hands with those who fought against us, make them my brethren and forgive all the past, only on one supreme condition, that it be admitted in practice, acknowledged in theory, that the cause for which we fought and you suffered was just and is forevermore will be right, eternally right. That the cause for which they fought was and forever will be the cause of treason and wrong. [Prolonged applause.] Until this is acknowledged my hand shall never grasp any rebel's hand across any chasm, however small. [Great applause and cheers.]

A question for the democracy. Did you ever hear of a democrat who surrendered any of his back pay as congressman?

—Peoria Transcript.

The democratic editors being too bashful to speak for themselves or their party on this delicate subject, we will answer the question for them. All the democrats in congress voted for the salary-grab, and not one of them—not even Lyman Trumbull, then a senator and now the democratic candidate for governor of Illinois—surrendered a "swag"—not one. On the other hand, nearly all the republicans in congress either voted against the grab, or refused to accept the "back pay." Did you ever hear of a democratic politician who was proof against temptation, when an opportunity was presented for feathering his own nest?

Pertinent Application of an Old Story.

Albany Evening Journal.

A fellow once walked out of a store in Gloucester with a fish he had stolen tucked under his vest. He hadn't gone far with his plunder before he was brought to a halt by a shrewd passerby, who taking in the situation at a glance, exclaimed, "See here, my friend, you either ought to wear longer vests or steal shorter fish." The democratic party, now that Hancock is nominated, are ardent in their love for the boys in blue, and are fond of dwelling upon sundry great battles of the war in which their candidate figured. But either the war record of the party ought to be longer than it is or else the party's present display of affection for the soldier ought to be shorter than it is.

The Cause Discovers.

Most of the readers who eyes scan these pages have suffered from headache, lassitude, nausea or pains in the back; but we doubt if they know what the cause was. In nine cases out of ten it was some trouble with the kidneys or liver. This is a truth which has just become known, and the result which Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure has accomplished. The above named troubles are caused by disordered kidneys and liver, and the remedy which cures the cause banishes the pains which arise from it. For sale by W. C. Armstrong, druggist.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Interesting Notes from the National Capital.

TANNER'S TASK, AND OTHER NEWS.

TOLEDO, July 17.—Wheat $1.02 cash; 99c July; $1.05 August.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Collector Ike Young, of Raleigh, N. C., is in town, and full of politics. He was one of the 306 at Chicago. He says that in North Carolina, the republicans have nominated a strong ticket throughout and they propose to make a fight for the whole of it; that there is no trouble getting the votes into the boxes, but the difficulty is in getting a fair count. That they will organize in every precinct, and have a fair count or fight.

Senator Cameron arrived here to-day, and after a consultation with Gov. Jewell, left, with his family, for Harrisburg, where he expects to remain during the campaign in Pennsylvania. The senator stated to your correspondent that the condition of his health had been greatly exaggerated; that he was very much exhausted from the labors of congress and the severe strain of the national convention, but that his health was in no condition which could not be fully restored by rest. Alluding to politics, he said that Gen. Garfield's nomination was one which improved on acquaintance, and it was better to have a candidate who gained in the popular estimation as the campaign went on than any one who went off in a flash and shimmered away at leisure. Gov. Jewell, he said, would make an excellent chairman, and would carry on a vigorous and successful campaign, and every element in the republican party would unite with him and give him all the substantial aid he would require. He said that personal preferences had been dropped, as far as he had been able to ascertain. The republicans now presented such a united front, and more than this, the factions who, under one pretext or another had left the party, are returning. In regard to Pennsylvania, he said he anticipated a very animated and successful campaign, and would give it his personal attention as on its result would not only depend the Presidential and Congressional tickets but a Legislature to choose a United States Senator. Reference having been made to statements that between Senator Blaine and himself there was not the most cordial relations since the Chicago Convention, the senator said laconically: "That's all bosh; Blaine is all right," and turning to a railroad official gave some directions about several packages to be forwarded to Senator Blaine at Augusta.

Gen. Simon Cameron will remain at the Virginia Springs a few days longer.

Judge Lawrence, of Ohio, the newly appointed first comptroller, says that before leaving for Washington he met some prominent gentlemen from Indiana, who said that a large number of colored persons had emigrated to Indiana during the last year, and had established themselves in various industries, and would add material strength to the republican vote, that the German vote would also go over to the republicans; and that many prominent democrats were already expressing fears of the expediency of permitting the southern leaders to once more get control of the government; that the present class of these people are chiefly the adventurers of the confederate army, and would govern more with vindictive recollection of that struggle than statesmanship.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Department of Agriculture reports the condition of the cotton, corn and wheat as follows:

The condition of the cotton crop is reported at the average of 100, the highest reported in July for several years. There are some complaints of drought in North and South Carolina, and of too much rain in Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. Insect injuries are not reported to any extent. The increase in the area planted in corn is 1 per cent. over that planted last year. The average condition of the crop in the whole country is the highest for many years, and is 100, being 7 per cent. more than last year at the same time. There are some complaints of drought in the South Atlantic States, while in the valley of the Mississippi and those states north of the Ohio river there is complaint of too much rain. The Pacific States report very high conditions.

The general average of Winter wheat July 1, was 95 against 91 a year ago. It improved slightly during June. The whole South falls off nearly a fourth, but the heavy Winter wheat region north of the Ohio river rules as high as above average, and the Pacific 4 per cent. West of the Mississippi, the crop averages 84 against 89 last year. Spring wheat averages 91, the same as July, 1879. This shows a great decline from June, when the average was 97. The New England States average 99, the Middle States 93, and north of the Ohio average 96. West of the Mississippi the general average is 90, Minnesota being 101, while Nebraska falls to 62. Iowa stands at 91. On the Pacific coast California reports 96.

BRADFORD, Pa., July 15.—Tank 623, belonging to the Acme Oil Company, at about one-third of a mile up the Ken-nes branch, in McKean county, was struck by lightning early this morning, and burning furiously. An overflow occurred at 12:40. Tank 621, about 200 feet down the stream, is in danger. Superintendent Snow, with a gang of men, is digging a trench and damming the stream to save more tanks. Two 25,000-barrel tanks near Custer City are now burning. They were also struck by lightning last night. Both the property of the United Pipe Lines. About 82,000 barrels of oil are burning. Four wells at Custer City are also burning.

LIVERPOOL, July 15.—A special from London says of the explosion in Risco colliery: "About 8 o'clock the bodies of three of the miners were found near the bottom of the shaft, but they have not yet been brought up. The force of the explosion was terrific, blowing to atoms the ventilating fan in the upper air blast. There is no hope that the men below can exist. While the men were at work yesterday evening the atmosphere was noticed to be heavy and overcharged. At midnight it was as dull as on a November day. The colliery is the property of the London and South Wales Colliery Company. The scenes about the mine are reported heart-rending. There is a large throng of people present, composed in great part of the relatives and friends of the imprisoned miners. Among them are many women who are bewailing the fate of husbands and sons, while little children are asking anxiously concerning their fathers. Everything possible is being done to expedite the rescue of the men, but scarcely any one hopes to find one of the miners alive.

NEW YORK, July 15.—Entering on the eighteenth day of his fast Dr. Tanner exhibits a marked improvement. From 9 last night until noon to day he swallowed between 30 and 40 ounces of water. His weight this morning was 137½ pounds. Allowing one pound for the weight of his coat he has gained four pounds since Wednesday. He took a drive to Central Park this morning and forced the dynamometer up to 151, against 80 yesterday. His pulse, when last taken, was 80, temperature, 98, respiration, 16.

His condition was unchanged in the afternoon. He went out for a drive to-night. His pulse was 76, and temperature 98. He forced the indicator of the dynamometer up to 166 pounds, showing a slight increase in strength. During the past 24 hours, he has drank 70 ounces of water, and felt better.

JACKSONVILLE, Ill., July 15.—Dr. L. M. Glover, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of this city, died at his residence this evening at 6 o'clock. Dr. Glover has been pastor of this church for over thirty years, and while he was distinguished for his learning, he was beloved not only by his own congregation, but by all denominations of Christians throughout this portion of the State for his Christian charity and the high morality of his daily life among the people. He was 60 years old. His funeral will probably take place on Sunday.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., July 15.—The local board of health, at noon to-day, adopted the order of the state board, which prohibits the importation into the state of certain articles shipped from New Orleans. Officers will be stationed on all lines of railroads leading into Memphis, and will enforce the order.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—Judge Lawrence, of Ohio, arrived this morning and had an interview with President Hayes. He accepts the appointment of First Comptroller of the Treasury.

Marshall Jewell, Chairman of the Republican Committee, called at the White House this morning and had a long interview with President Hayes. The President this morning signed the commission of Judge Lawrence as First Comptroller of the Treasury, who took the oath of office and entered at once upon his duties.

DANIEL CRAIG, the democratic police magistrate of Macon, who was elected by about 22 majority at the election held last spring, got on a drunk on Saturday, July 3d, was arrested on that day and lodged in the town calaboose. He didn't stay in but a few hours and yesterday he appeared before Judge Jones and pleaded guilty to the charge of drunkenness. He was fined and went his way in peace.

It took the united strength of Deputy Marshal Hewes and Officer Mason last evening to arrest and cage an intoxicated man who was acting for a fight. He was fined this forenoon.

A "Hot Box" Cooled.

The one-story frame dwelling on the alley on the west side of North Church, north of West Main street, caught fire this forenoon about 10 o'clock, resulting from a defective flue in a summer kitchen. The alarm was promptly sounded and the Rescue boys were soon on the spot hard at work, under the direction of Chief Hewes, the Hookies also doing valiant service. The flames were found to be located in the roof of the kitchen, and when the firemen arrived had communicated to the roof of the main building, but by a liberal baptism of water from the hose and Babcock extinguishers, the fire was soon put out, doing damage to the amount of $25. The other fire companies appeared on the scene, but too late to operate. The dwelling is occupied by the families of William Johnson and Joseph Cousins, and is owned by Mrs. M. A. Travis, the widow. It was fully covered by insurance with Montgomery & Shull. This dwelling has been on fire no less than three times and seems to be generally out of luck.

The "Daily Herald" Not a Success.

The following editorial announcement appeared in the Decatur Daily Herald, of last evening, which shows that the publication of that evening newspaper has not proved a financial success:

To Our Patrons.—We commenced the publication of the Daily Herald precisely upon the same plan that an individual would engage in any business enterprise, with the expectation that if it paid to continue its publication, and if it did not pay then to cease its publication. With this understanding, plainly stated at the time, and that no one but ourselves should hazard anything in the enterprise, we fixed weekly rates, and said to our patrons that "should be governed entirely by future developments." We have now given the experiment a fair trial, and financially the Daily Herald is not that success that we and its ardent friends desired, and have therefore concluded to stop its publication on our next Saturday's issue, and continue only the Weekly Herald, which is on a good basis, with a fine prospect of increasing its field of usefulness. This expectation, and its results, is no great disappointment to us, for we had at the beginning many ungivings as to its success—nevertheless we cheerfully entered upon the enterprise, determined to see what might be in it, and now becoming fully satisfied, just as cheerfully abandon it.

Rowell & Addis, the publishers, announce that they will continue the publication of their weekly, the Saturday Herald, and hope to make it a success.

THAT CHURCH TRIAL.

Wm. H. Bayne, Editor of the Review, Expelled From the First M. E. Church for Gross Immoral Conduct.

Since Wednesday morning last the summary expulsion of Wm. H. Bayne, the editor and publisher of the Daily Review, from the First M. E. Church, on the charge of gross immoral conduct in connection with boys and young men, has been the town talk of Decatur. For the information of the general public, below we give the action of the church committee assigned by the pastor to investigate the charge, as made.

A committee of two waited upon Mr. Bayne on July 7th, and informed him of the nature of the charge made against him. Mr. Bayne denied being guilty of the charge, and said he would not appear for trial; but he asked that he be permitted to withdraw from the church without any publicity. That same evening the church met after prayer meeting, when the committee reported the result of their interview with the accused and also presented his request. After a general talk, the board, with but one exception, voted that the whole matter be thoroughly investigated by a church committee, and if it was found that Mr. Bayne was guilty of the charges alleged against him, then expel him at once from further connection with the church.

Subsequently the pastor appointed an examining committee composed of five persons, the charge, as stated above, was formally made and reduced to writing, and William H. Bayne was notified to appear in person at the examination, which took place at the church on Tuesday evening, July 13, 1880.

The committee met, as did also an attorney for the prosecution, an attorney for the defendant, and a stenographer, who took down the evidence given. The defendant not appearing, the trial proceeded, and two witnesses gave in their testimony, which was followed by a statement made by a gentleman, the father of a boy of tender years who had been Bayne's bedfellow on one occasion. The testimony is of such a disgusting character that we omit it entire. At the conclusion of the examination the committee took a vote on the question of expelling Bayne from the church, and it was so ordered unanimously. The pastor thereupon expelled W. H. Bayne from the church book.

As stated in the outset this action of the committee is public talk in all parts of the city, and from what we can learn in connection with this truly sensational case, none of the reports have been in the least exaggerated. There are from 15 to 20, and probably more boys and young men of Decatur, whose ages range from 15 to 21 years, who have a personal knowledge of Mr. Bayne's conduct, and have communicated to intimate friends what they know about the accused in this connection. For nearly a year this matter has been an open secret among many people in Decatur, but they have very naturally hesitated saying anything about it to other people until the present time. And now the REPUBLICAN simply does its duty as a public journal by giving the facts in the case.

THEIR LEGAL PUNISHMENT.

"Gross immoral conduct with boys and young men," is thus defined as "sodomy or a crime against nature" in the revised statutes of Illinois, 1874, chapter 38, section 47.

"47. PUNISHMENT. § 47.—The infamous crime against nature, committed with man or beast, shall subject the offender to be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term not more than ten years."

Railway Notes.

The workmen in the machine shops of the Illinois Midland, at Paris, struck on Monday for the money due them for May. No adjustment of the matter has been made. The strikers claim to have power to keep the shops idle until their demands are complied with.

Most of the new machinery for the I. D. & S. R. R. has arrived at Indianapolis, and is being placed in position. The machinery is one of the finest patterns built in this country. When the I. D. & S. R. R. does become one of the trunk lines it will be in excellent shape in all its departments to do business.

The Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield and the Wabash roads have perfected arrangements by which through trains are to be run over these lines between Indianapolis and Kansas City. The I. D. & S. R. R., the Wabash and Hannibal & St. Joe roads each place two elegant coaches in the line. These arrangements through cars of the Indiana, Bloomington & Western road off this route, and will necessitate a transfer of the I. D. & S. R. R. passengers at Danville, Ill.

The P. D. & E. Ry Co. refused, on last Friday, to carry the American Express Company's messenger any longer, and the company had to pay his fare from Decatur to Mattoon.

Corsets.

We show now about 1,000 corsets, comprising every thing in the corset line that is of recent manufacture, easy fitting and durable. We have not an old style or last year's corset in the house. We have only one price on these goods, and as they are always staple, we do not advertise them at greatly reduced or reduced prices at all, and no legitimate dealer carrying regular goods can afford to sell this class of goods at reduced prices, unless they had them previously marked to realize a big profit. Snide corsets without reputation or real value, can be picked up in large quantities at any time, and at any price. We got our goods direct from the manufacturers, and keep only first-class, well-known goods. As to prices, we can safely say that we sell the best corset ever offered in Decatur for the money.

The Eldorado Street Picnic.

One of the most enjoyable picnics of the season took place at the fair grounds on yesterday. It was organized by Mrs. F. M. Cox and Mrs. J. D. Shaffer, and was composed in the main of citizens of East Eldorado and North streets, between Morgan and Illinois streets. The ladies and children, together with a few gentlemen, repaired to the grounds at an early hour, where they had a most pleasant time during the forenoon. At 12 m. the gentlemen invited could be seen looking westward from the city. At one o'clock Mrs. F. M. Cox sounded the dinner gong, using a tin basin and a huge can for the same. After all were gathered around the tables our reporter counted 90 persons. Besides these there were some men that he could not count them. Mr. Cox was master of ceremonies, assisted by Mr. J. T. Denton and Worth Bradley; Sir Charles Brown as chief eater, and well did he act his part. He and Sir P. Loeb had a contest as to who could do away with the most sandwiches; Dr. J. S. King having been appointed umpire; but as Charles was taking down his seventeenth a dispute arose, some of the ladies claiming that the umpire was eating his nineteenth, and while the question was being argued Brown and Loeb demolished all that was left within reach, and the blue ribbon was awarded to Brown; the red is yet looking for an owner. Mrs. Wm. Dodson was voted a success at the table. Messrs. J. D. Shaffer, C. O. Judson, Andrew Shoemaker and P. Loeb had a grand game pitching horse shoes, which resulted in—well, our reporter promised not to tell how the game did end. Much more could be said of this, one of the most pleasant picnics it has been our pleasure to attend this season, but space will not permit. The lady managers are deserving of much praise for their successful efforts in making the affair a grand success in every respect. May their shadows never—no, never—grow less.

PERSONAL POINTS.

Miss Eva Bunn has returned from her protracted visit at Florida and other cities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roach and daughter arrived home from their visit to Kentucky on yesterday.

Miss Jeanie Sutton, of Shelbyville, is in the city, the guest of her friend, Miss Alice Freeman.

Dr. C. Goodbrake, the eminent physician and surgeon, of Clinton, was in the city last evening.

Harry Ehrman entertained a large company of his young lady and gentlemen friends at his home last night.

Miss Mattie Petree, of Elkhart, Ky., is in the city, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Roach.

Mrs. E. J. Moeller left yesterday for Springfield, Mo., where she will visit her daughter, Mrs. Milton Lapham, for several weeks.

I. J. Davis departed for Saybrook, Ill., this afternoon to attend a District Y. M. C. A. Conference. State Secretary, I. E. Brown, will conduct the conference. Mr. Davis will be absent over Sunday.

Hon. S. S. Jack, who was prostrated by the intense heat of Tuesday last, was able to appear on the streets of the city to-day. He feels quite weak and walks slowly.

Clem Davis, press agent for Thornton's famous Berlin museum, menagerie and St. Louis circus and cosmopolitan allied shows, arrived in the city on yesterday, and gave us a call to-day. This show will exhibit in Decatur on July 29th.

Judge A. W. Tourgee, author of "A Fool's Errand," will "take the stump" for Garfield as soon as he finishes his new book. He is now at work upon it in Canada, where his family have just joined him for the summer.

Attention, Housekeepers.

We have in stock, besides a complete line of table linen, table cloths and table oil cloths, about 100 pieces of regular all kinds, which we offer under the cash prices.

CHEAP STORE.

To Buy Goods Cheap.

is the aim of all, and their duty as well as their right. To meet these requirements Linn & Scruggs have spared neither time nor labor. Their efforts have been to sell a great many goods at small profits, and this they have accomplished. But they cannot afford under these circumstances to have the time of their salesmen taken up in exchanging goods, besides incurring additional losses on the goods exchanged. Those who deal with us are not willing to buy goods of us "out of order." Why then should they try to force them upon us, and sometimes by a threat to deal elsewhere if we refuse their demands. This three springs from ignorance and self-hood, and will not change our purpose in refusing to take goods back, when the fault is with the purchaser. And those who advertise to take back goods indiscriminately, must necessarily have a ragged stock; or sell them to others as perfect; or if they lose, they are compelled to make up their losses on others, unless they get more for their goods in the beginning than they are worth. It is hardly possible that we should be always right, and we say again, as we did in a published statement sometime ago, that we guarantee to take everything back should it not prove as represented, whether in quality, color, or price, or where the mistake is with us.

Important Undertaking.

John W. Paine, Jr., has in course of preparation a new directory of the city of Decatur, which promises, from the principal features of the undertaking, to surpass anything of the kind with which the citizens of Decatur have ever been favored. In addition to having the names of every inhabitant of the city, male or female, and their places of residence, it will also contain the names and residences of the principal inhabitants of Macon and Macon. There will also be added a brief and carefully prepared history of Decatur, Macon and Macon, compiled from notes taken several years since, gathered from the most authentic and reliable sources. Another feature of the book promises to be of much practical utility to the business portion of the inhabitants of these corporations. The author and compiler of the book has recently been appointed a Special Agent of the Government, to collect the statistics of manufactures for the city of Decatur. The information which he receives from various sources, of course, will be authentic; and although forbidden by the department from making known any fact which is imparted to him confidentially, yet the rise, the progress, and the successful management of the various manufacturing interests of Decatur are fairly matters of public interest, and will be portrayed in living colors and demonstrate to the outside world that the city of Decatur, though yet weak in numbers, is a giant in enterprise and prospective industry.

Mr. Paine, it is well-known, is eminently qualified to edit the proposed volume, and it is hoped that our citizens will be disposed to patronize and encourage home industry. Those citizens who have promised Mr. Paine their patronage and encouragement, are assured that the undertaking will be promptly carried to a termination.

Mr. Paine having visited, personally, (with the three other enumerators who will assist him) all the houses in the corporate limits of the city, will of course be in possession of all the names and residences from actual visitation, and the public may therefore expect a book which will be in every way authentic and reliable.

Those of our citizens who have not been waited upon, are informed that they will be, and the terms made known both for book and advertising space. The three words: "Cheap, durable and reliable," convey the ruling ideas in the enterprise.

It is to be hoped that the public will appreciate and liberally encourage and patronize this valuable home enterprise which promises so much valuable information for the people.

CARD.

We, the undersigned, being fully impressed with the importance of having a correct and reliable "Directory" of the city of Decatur, and knowing that Mr. John W. Paine, Jr., has been, for some time past, engaged upon writing up the details of this important work, do, most heartily, recommend his undertaking to the inhabitants of Decatur, particularly the business portion.

We are prompted hereto by a knowledge of Mr. Paine's educational and business attainments, and his valuable experience in literary matters, having full confidence in his personal fitness to edit such a volume to the satisfaction of the citizens generally.

Furthermore, Mr. Paine, being at this time the "Special Agent" of the Government in the collection of "Statistics of Manufactures," etc., will be enabled to add a few chapters to his book which will contain items of general interest to the citizens of Decatur.

We therefore cheerfully recommend his work to the patronage of the people, (who have already given him such bountiful assurances of success), being fully assured that we will have the very best guide book and advertising medium the city has ever had, and the general interests of our city advanced thereby:

INVALIDS

AND OTHERS SEEKING HEALTH,
STRENGTH AND ENERGY.

WITHOUT THE USE OF DRUGS, ARE RE-QUESTED TO SEND FOR THE ELECTRIC
REVIEW, AN ILLUSTRATED JOUR-NAL, WHICH IS PUBLISHED
FOR FREE DISTRIBUTION.

IT TREATS UPON HEALTH, HYGIENE, and Physical Culture, and is a complete encyclopedia of information for invalids and those who suffer from Nervous, Exhaustion and Fatigue Diseases. Every subject that bears upon health and human happiness, receives attention at its proper and the most complete place. By suffering invalids, who have described a cure, are answered, and valuable information is secured to all who are in need of such advice.
The subject of Electric Light, and the benefits and appearance to entering humanity, is daily considered and explained.

And those who suffer from Nervous and Physical Debility, Loss of Manly Vigor, Exhaustion and the many gloomy consequences of such indiscution, etc., are especially benefited by consulting its columns.

THE ELECTRIC REVIEW exposes the unmitigated frauds practiced by quacks and medical impostors who profess to "practice medicine," and points out the only safe, simple, and sure method of curing Nervous and Physical Debility.

A man was sawing wood in a back yard. He severed two sticks as thick as your wrist and then went into the house. "Mary," said he to his wife,

"my country needs me; there's no use of talking; we've just got to slaughter all these injuns; no true patriot can be expected to hang around a woodpile these days." "John," said his wife, "if you fight injuns as well as you saw wood and support your family, it would take 118 like you to capture one squaw, and you'd have to catch her when she had the ague and throw pepper in her eyes." John went back to the wood pile, wondering who told his wife all about him.

The woman who made up her mind to walk from Omaha to San Francisco arrived at her journey's end a fortnight ago. The tramp occupied three months.
When asked why she had done it, she replied: "Oh, I had a husband and two children out here, and I thought I'd come out." "Had you money?" "Yes, money enough; but I wanted to see if a woman could do it. I was offered rides on the trains a good many times, but I wouldn't take 'em. A freight train passed me yesterday, but I would not get on, though they asked me. I wanted to walk all the way, and I did it."

There was a young man of St. Went's who went out to gather the census;
he asked a woman her age,
and when she flew into a rage and kicked him over seventeen fences.

A writer advises that girls who wish to have small mouths should repeat at very frequent intervals during the day that "Panny Kitch fried five flounder-
